In the light of God's Word...

I understand that the ten horns of Daniel 7 represent kingdoms that would come into power after the fall of Rome.

I understand that three of those kingdoms were to be uprooted by the emergence of another power.

I understand that the Saints will forever serve and obey the Ruler of the everlasting kingdom.

NOTE: Historically, Babylon was followed by the combined dominion of the Medes and Persians (Daniel 5:28-31). This kingdom was represented in Daniel 2 by the image's silver breast and arms, and in Chapter 8 by a two-horned ram. Just as one of the ram's horns was higher than the other (8:3), so the bear of Daniel 7:5 raised up itself on one side. At first the Medes were the more dominant of the two. But soon the Persians became the more powerful side, fulfilling the prediction that "the higher came up last" (8:3). Daniel 8:4 says that the Medo-Persian ram would push "westward, and northward, and southward." Between 547 and 525 B.C. they conquered Lydia, Babylon, and Egypt. That explains the three ribs between the bear's teeth (7:5).

10. What was the third beast like?

Daniel 7:6 _____

11. How many "wings of a fowl" were upon this beast?

Daniel 7:6 _____

NOTE: Medo-Persia was followed by Greece. This winged leopard kingdom corresponds to the brass belly and thighs on the image in Chapter 2, and the goat in Chapter 8.

12. How many heads did this beast have?

Daniel 7:6 _____

NOTE: Wings give the connotation of swiftness. As the goat in Chapter 8 came from the west "and touched not the ground," so Alexander's conquests were accomplished speedily. Just as the leopard had four wings and four heads (7:6), so the goat grew four horns (8:8), which represented the four divisions of the Greek empire (8:22). It is also interesting to note that Macedonian coins were minted with the likeness of a goat.

13. The fourth beast was dreadful, terrible and what?

Daniel 7:7 _____

14. What did this fourth beast represent?

Daniel 7:23 _____

15. What chemical element makes up the teeth of this beast?

Daniel 7:7 _____

NOTE: The fourth and final secular world empire was Rome. The great iron teeth (7:7) of this beast remind us of the iron legs of the image in Chapter 2.

16. How many horns did the fourth beast have?

Daniel 7:7 _____

17. What did the horns of that kingdom represent?

Daniel 7:24 _____

NOTE: By A.D. 476, western Rome had fully given over its power to ten barbaric nations: Franks (French), Alemanni (Germans), Burgundians (Swiss), Suevi (Portuguese), Vandals (in Northern Africa), Visigoths (Spanish), Anglo-Saxons (English), Ostrogoths, Lombards, and Heruli (each in Italy).

18. What came up among these horns?

Daniel 7:8 _____

19. What happened to three of the first horns?

Daniel 7:8 _____

NOTE: Verse 24 says, "He shall subdue three kings." Historically, this horn power was responsible for the fall of the Heruli in the year 493, the Vandals in 534, and the Ostrogoths in 538. The other seven still exist today as nations of Europe.

20. What kind of eyes did this little horn power have?

Daniel 7:8 _____

21. What else did he have?

Daniel 7:8 _____

22. How did he look compared to his fellows?

Daniel 7:20 _____

NOTE: These characteristics, along with the contextual indications that he acted in a spiritual realm as well as having political authority, account for the statement that "he shall be diverse from the first" (7:24).

23. Daniel beheld until what happened?

Daniel 7:9 _____

24. Who is the Ancient of days?

Psalm 90:2 _____

25. The judgment was set and what were opened?

Daniel 7:10 _____

NOTE: "Cast down" in verse 9 is old English for "set in place." The passage indicates that this judgment occurs among the heavenly host; while on earth the final activities of the kingdoms of men are nearing their close. This, of course, is the investigative judgment, which we studied in lesson 16.
